

Boundless: Africa

A collaboration between the Kennedy Center, the Camargo Foundation, the Alan Cheuse International Writers Center at George Mason University, and the Caine Prize for African Writing.

Tuesday, February 4, & Wednesday, February 5, 2020

PROGRAM SCHEDULE
(Subject to Change)

TUESDAY, February 4th

At George Mason University

1:30-2:45 pm UNBOUND: African writers discuss how politics inform and shape their work.
Panel discussion

At Kennedy Center's The REACH

Skylight Pavilion

6:00-8:00 PM

NOT ALL CANOES SAIL BACK HOME: MAYA, MARYSE, AND EFUA IN

NKRUMAH's Ghana

Written by Femi Osofisan

Directed by Chuck Mike

Play reading followed by a panel discussion

Studio K

8:30-10:00 pm

A VOICE IN THE WIND

Written and performed by Booker Prize-winner Ben Okri Reading with a guest musician

WEDNESDAY, February 5th

All events at the REACH

Skylight Pavilion

12:30-2:00 PM

TALKING HOME: A Writer's Life

Panel discussion

Studio J
2:30-5:30 pm

GATHERINGS: Conversations and Discussions
Writers convening time.

Skylight Pavilion
6:30-9:00 PM

AT HOME, FROM HOME, HOME AND AWAY

Conceived around the concept of a dinner party, the audience will enjoy a meal seated alongside writers as well as writers from the diaspora. This ticketed event will include a three-course meal, with participatory musical performances and interventions during the meal. All writers will be in attendance.